

Dear Lady Valentine,

We know you have taken that which does not belong to you. We know you wish to attain power that has not been granted to you by the Aristocrats. You have crossed us far too many times, and your position is precarious.

However, we believe that a loyal and faithful subject is a stronger subject. And what we do appreciate is your ambition and drive to succeed.

We will allow you to perform the ritual. However, in exchange you must offer us what you always held just out of reach when you were Don of The Collective: Ultimate Power & Control.

We desire the full and uncompromised support of The Collective in all endeavors that the Aristocrats could undertake.

If you refuse, the ritual will not give you the power that you seek to determine the leadership of The Collective.

We await your response. Our new technologies will allow us to receive all messages sent to the following communications: lastcallthtr@gmail.com

Sincerely,

The High Council of the Aristocrats
